1. Chapter 1

Hello everyone... I'm still a newbie and this is my first crossover, I hope you like them. And by the way, English is not my mother language, so I'm sorry if my english is bad.

Oh yeah, this is a story about Rapunzel, Merida, and Hiccup being adopted by Elsa's family, Elsa is their big sister. The title, Elsa's Theory of Happiness is taken from a song called Ayano's Theory of Happiness (Ayano no Koufuko Riron). Anyway, please enjoy this first chapter.

Disclaimer: I don't own anything from Rise of the Guardians, How to Train Your Dragon, Brave, Tangled, Frozen, and Kagerou Project. All the credits goes to Disney, Pixar, DreamWorks Animation, and Kagerou Project.

Chapter 1

It's sunday night and my parents were still out there. I don't know what they up to but they said they will be home at 7, and now it's 9 o'clock. Where are they?

"We're home..."

"Finally.. They're home!" I quickly run to the front door to great them.

"Mother... Father... Welcome home." I said, standing in front of them. 'I have to be a good girl and great them properly.'

"Elsa..." My father put his hand on my shoulder, he look at me with his serious face.

"What is it, father?" I asked, looking at him.

"I brought you two new sisters and a brother." My father said, looking to the three new faces behind him.

"Elsa is your big sister, so get along with her, everyone." My mother said, smiling.

"This is Merida." My mother pointed to the red haired girl.

"And this is Rapunzel." My mother pointed to the golden haired girl.

"And finally, this is Hiccup." My mother pointed to the brown haired boy.

"I guess we will be a family starting now." I said, smiling at them. But they weren't smiling back, they don't even look at me. They keep staring down since the first time they arrived here. I noticed that they all have the same eye color, red.

"I wonder what happened to them." I said to myself.

"Okay now I'll lead them to their new room so they can take a rest." My father said as he walks away with Rapunzel, Merida, and Hiccup.

"You should take a rest too. Good night Elsa." My mother said, putting her hand in my shoulder and kiss my forehead before she started to following my father.

"So I will become a big sister." I said as I touched my forehand before I decided to go to my room and take a rest.

And then the next day.

"I can't believe it's morning already."

I quickly get up from my bed and taking a bath as usual before I went to the dining room to have breakfast. When I got there I realize everyone is already there, including my two new sisters and brother.

"Good morning." My mother said, cheerful as usual.

"Oh yeah I forgot to asked my mother about my two new sisters and brother, I guess I will asked her later." I said to myself.

"Good morning mother, father, Merida, Rapunzel, and Hiccup." I said, looking at them. But they still the same as yesterday, ignoring me.

"Oh yeah mother, I want to ask you about something." I said, when the breakfast is over and my mother is sitting in the library, reading a book.

"What is it, honey?" My mother said, closing the book and looking at me.

"It's about my two new sisters and brother." I said, sitting next to her.

"Oh yes, I forgot to tell you. But it's a long story, do you still want to hear it?"

I smiled and nodded.

"So Rapunzel's, Merida's, and Hiccup's family was attacked by an evil man, and they were the only one who survived from the evil man's attacked. Rapunzel's mother is... My sister, so yesterday I, with your father, went to picked her up, but then we saw Merida and Hiccup. After several minutes deciding with your father, we finally reached the final decision and brought all of them here, and tadaaa... They're your new brother and sisters."

"Well... That's not a long story for me." I said, with a flat tone.

"Really? But it is a long story for me." She said.

"Oww mother." I said, smiling to her, and we both laughing. "So that's what happened. That's why they're ignoring me."

"I think they're still in a shocking moment, losing all of their family in just one night, and suddenly adopted by us. They're been through a lot."

"I thought they all hate me." I said, looking down.

"Hate you? They will never hate a good girl like you." My mother said, patting my head.

"You're right mother... And now I will try to be a good sister for them."

2. Chapter 2

Chapter 2

I run around the castle, finding my new brother and sisters. And then I finally see them, in the living room. Sitting like dead person.

"Hey." I said, great them. But this time is a little bit different, they're finally looking at me. I can finally see their bright red eyes, so bright and red like a blood.

"So, as you know, I will be your big sister from today, and I hope we can get along." They're just staring at me, with no emotion at all.

"What should we do?" I said to myself, thinking of something fun that can make their sadness go away.

"Ehmm... How about we play some games?" I said, cheerfully. They're still looking at me. I quickly run to my room to find an interesting games I've had, and then run back to the living room.

"Look... We can play chess if you like." I said, showing them the chess board. "Or playing scrabble like this." I said again, showing them the scrabble board. "Or if you don't want to play board games, we can play snow outside or hide in seek inside, what about that? Which one do you like?"

They're still looking at me, but then one of them finally talk.

"Elsa..." This is the first time I heard one of them saying something.

"What is it, Rapunzel?" I said, sitting in front of her, looking directly to her face.

"I'm scared..." She said, crying.

"You don't have be afraid... I'm right here you see..." I said, cheering her up.

"People said I'm a monster... Because I have red eyes..." Rapunzel said, still crying.

"No, that's not true at all. Red is the color of a hero, so there's no need to be afraid." I said, smiling, cheering everyone.

"But what if the bad guy comes again... And kill all of us?" Hiccup finally say a word.

"He won't... Because I'll be here, protecting you." I said, as I stand up. "Hold on a second, I think I know what we're going to play today."

I run as fast as I can to my room and search for a red cloak. "I found it." I put on the red cloak like Superman, and I run back to the living room.

"Ladies and gentleman, we're going to play superhero." I said as I lift my right hand like a superhero pose.

"Superhero?" The three of them suddenly lift their face and looking amaze.

"Yes, we will be a superhero who save the day from a bad guy, what do you think?" I said, cheerfully.

They're just nodded, and smiling.

"Finally, there's something I can do with them." I said to myself.

"Okay then, we'll pretend that we're a group of superhero that helped each others. I will be member number 0, and who's going to be member number 1?" I asked them.

"I... Want to be member number 1..." Hiccup said, shyly.

"Okay then Hiccup will be member number 1..." Before I finished my sentences, Rapunzel looking at me excitedly. "I want to be member number 2! I want to be member number 2!" She said.

"Haha... Slow down, Rapunzel. Okay you will be member number 2." I said, pointed my finger to her, and she looks really happy about it. "And the last one is, Merida, are you okay being member number 3?" I asked her.

"Yeah, I'm fine." She said with Scottish accent.

"But why you have to be member number 0, Elsa?" Hiccup asked, curious.

"Because I will be a manager for our superhero group. I will always be there to protect all of you if you're in danger." I said, smiling, the three of them then starting to smile too.

"But, if we're going to be a group of superhero, we must have a name for ourself right?" Hiccup asked.

"Yeah, like 'The Avengers'" Merida said.

"What should we call ourself?" Rapunzel said, thinking.

"I was thinking to named ourself, 'The Big Four', how's that sound? Do you like it?" I said with a big big smile.

"I like it..." Hiccup said, looking amaze.

"I love it..." Rapunzel said, cheerfully.

"That's sounds kind of cool." Merida said with her Scottish accent.

"Okay then from now on, we will be 'The Big Four', the heroes of our generation, we will eliminate all of the bad guy and we will save the day." I smiled to them, and they're just saying 'Horaaay'.

And our fun day finally begin...

3. Chapter 3

Chapter 3

"I am Hiccup, the greatest superhero ever..." Hiccup said, proudly.

"Along with his friends, Rapunzel..." Rapunzel said, continuing what Hiccup said.

"And Merida..." Merida said, continuing what Rapunzel said.

"We will save this day!" All of them said, like a real superhero.

"Hahaha... You guys are really great." I said, clapping my hands.

It's been one week since I started 'The Big Four', and we always have a mission everyday, and having fun all the time.

"Manager... What is today's mission?" Hiccup asked. He's getting stronger each day, and he's been like a leader in our group.

"No, all of them are getting stronger. " I said to myself.

"For today's mission is..." I look outside the windows and I realize that they're never played outside before. "Capture the bad guy outside!"

"We're going outside?" Merida asked, surprised.

"Yes, we're going to have fun in the snow." I said, with a big smile.

"Okay, but before that, I think we'll have a race." Hiccup said, smirking.

"Oooh... A race..." Rapunzel said, looking excited.

"Racing to the front door? Well... I won't lose this time." Merida said, fired up.

"I won't lose to you too Merida." Hiccup said, fired up.

"Okay everyone... Start your engine... Ready... Set..." I said, prepare to run.

"GOOO!"

All of us then start running to the front door.

"Horeeee... I win!" Merida said, looking really happy.

"It's not fair... Why is it always you who won the race?" Hiccup said, looking disappointed.

"Because I'm better than you.." Merida said, proudly.

"Aww... I'm always in the third place." Rapunzel said, looking a little bit disappointed too.

"You guys are really great... I hope someday I will be faster like all of you." I said, smiling.

"At least I'm not in the last place like Elsa." Hiccup said, laughing. All of us then start to laugh too.

"Okay then, let's go playing in the snowwww!" I said as I opened the door.

"Waaaaw..."

"It's white everywhere..." Merida said, looking to the left and right.

"Are you sure it is safe for us to play outside?" Hiccup asked me.

"Of course it's safe." I said.

"It's a little bit cold outside..." Rapunzel said.

"Are you guys cold?" I asked, worried.

"Nope, I'm fine." Merida and Hiccup said.

"Yeah me too, I'm just saying it's a little cold." Rapunzel said, cheerful as usual.

All of us then start to play in the snow. We play many games, like throwing snowballs to each other, snowball fight, building a snowman, "Hi I'm Olaf." I said to them after I finished my snowman. The three of them then said with excited, "Hi Olaf." We're having so much fun outside. Until suddenly I see someone who been staring at us since I built Olaf. The white haired boy with pale skin, wearing a brown cloak with white woolen shirt, and caring a staff.

"Is he the bad guy?" I asked myself, feeling a little scared. "No, Elsa don't be afraid.. He won't hurt you.." I said to myself. "I must go talk to him, to protect my brother and sisters."

"Excuse me..." I said to the white haired boy. He's just staring at me with a surprise, like I was a ghost or something.

"You can see me?" He asked, feeling a little bit surprise.

"What the!? What kind of question is that? Of course I can see him, I'm not blind." I said to myself. "Yes I can see you.. Who are you?" I asked him.

"Finally... There's someone who can see me..." He said, very excited. "Oh, I'm Jack Frost, spirit of winter." He introduced himself.

"Spirit?" I said, surprised. "Are you a bad guy?"

"No, I'm not a bad guy, I'm a very good young man." He said, smirking.

"He looks suspicious." I said to myself.

Meanwhile when Elsa was talking to Jack, Rapunzel see her.

"Elsa is talking to a man..." Rapunzel said. Hiccup and Merida then quickly move their eyes to see Elsa too.

"Do you think he's a bad guy?" Hiccup asked.

"Or maybe her friend..." Merida said.

"Really? But what if he's really a bad guy... And pretend to be good so Elsa will believe that he's a good man?" Hiccup said.

"Oh no... He's caring some stick..." Rapunzel said, pointing her finger to Jack's staff. "He can hit or kill Elsa with that... He can hurt our Elsa."

"C'mon we have to save Elsa." Hiccup command, and the children went to rescue Elsa. "Hold on Elsa, we're coming for you."

4. Chapter 4

Chapter 4

"We're coming Elsa!" Hiccup shout as he throw a snowball to Jack.

"What the!?" I said, looking surprised. And then I look at Hiccup. Rapunzel and Merida were throwing snowballs too. "What are you doing?"

"We're trying to save you Elsa..." Rapunzel said as she throw a snowball to Jack.

"Save me?" I said to myself, feeling a little bit touched.

"Maybe they think Jack was trying to hurt me, so they came to rescue me." I think.

"No no no, he's not hurting me... I'm fine see..." I said to them, trying to stop them from throwing the snowballs to Jack.

"So he's not a bad guy?" Hiccup asked, stop throwing.

"No..." I said, and then I walk toward the three of them.

"He's a spirit of winter, his name is Jack Frost." I said, telling them the truth.

"Oh no... What have we done..." Rapunzel said, feeling guilty.

"We're so sorry Elsa... We thought that he's going to kill you..." Merida said, bowing her head.

"We have to apologize to him." Hiccup said.

"WE ARE SO SORRY..." The three of them said, bowing their head.

"Sorry for what?" Jack asked.

"For throwing snowballs at you earlier..." Hiccup said.

"Oh... Snowball huh..." Jack said. "How dare you throw snowballs to Jack Frost..." Jack throwing the snowball back at Hiccup. Hiccup froze for a moment, not knowing that Jack was just playing with him. Hiccup then realize that Jack was just kidding, because he was laughing after he throw snowball to Hiccup. Hiccup then throw the snowball back at him, and before I know it, they're playing snowball fight. Rapunzel and Merida joined too. The four of them were having fun.

"As long as they're happy, then I'm happy too." I said to myself, smiling at them.

"Elsa you're not going to join us?" Merida asked. She seems very cheerful than usual.

"Coming." I smile as I run toward them and join them.

Since then, Jack always came to visited us everyday, well not everyday, he visited us only when he wanted to. Sometimes he played with us, and sometimes he just watching me, Hiccup, Merida and Rapunzel playing. The five of us always having fun together. That was the best times in my life, that I won't ever forget.

One day, I feel like I want to give them something, so I made a purple gown for Rapunzel (like the one she was wearing in Tangled), a dark blue gown for Merida (like the one she was wearing in Brave), a brown vest like a fur coat for Hiccup (like the one he was wearing in the How to Train Your Dragon), and a blue hooded sweater for Jack (like the one he was wearing in the Rise of the Guardians) as my thanks to them, because since they came into my life, everything become so colorful. They gave me something that I didn't have, the warmth of a friend and a family.

"You made this for me?" All of them said, surprised.

"Yes." I smiled.

"Wow, you even made this for me?" Jack asked, holding the blue hooded sweater.

"Of course I do, do you like it?" I asked.

"Like it? I love it..." Jack said, happily.

The four of them then changed their clothes.

"Thank you Elsa..." All of them said, smiling. Suddenly, I feel like I saw Anna in front of me, saying thanks with the four of them. But when I closed my eyes and opened it again, she was gone.

"Well, of course she was gone, a long time ago." I said to myself.

Two years ago, before I met the four of them, me and My sister, Anna, was just returned from the mountain, and Anna suddenly sick. The doctor said that her body is weak so she can't handle a cold weather. I think Anna felt really cold when she was in the mountain with me, but she didn't wanted to tell me and keep smiling all the time. "I'm okay Elsa." She always gave an answer like that whenever I asked if she felt cold or not. But then I knew she was lying, because her condition became worst each day and she passed a way a few days later.

Since Anna's death, I've been locking myself in my room. I felt really guilty because I was the one who brought her to the mountain (actually she was the one who wanted to come). But then when I heard my mother and father has adopted three kids, and met them in person, I looked at their red eyes, and I felt like I saw something. After I asked my mother what's wrong with them, I realized that they were suffering much more than I was. And since that day, I swear that I will always protect them, I will never allow someone to hurt them, because I don't want them to feel the same way back then when I first meet them.

Like I said before, "As long as they're happy, then I'm happy too." I wish I can be like this with them forever, but I can't. The time is moving and people moving forward, to the better future. So I pray for their happiness in the future, no matter how sad it may be, I hope they will always be happy.

(Happy new year guys! :) I want to say thank you so much for your favs, follows, and reviews ^^ like usual I will reply your review right here :

5. Chapter 5

Chapter 5

"Elsa, what should we do today?" Merida asked.

"What should we do?" I said, thinking, and finally I've got an idea.

"Oh I know... Heroes must fight with the bad guy, so do you want to learn how to fight?" I said, smiling.

"Fight?" Hiccup said.

"You mean with weapons?" Merida asked.

"Of course..." I said, happily.

"I can help." Jack suddenly appear from the window.

"Jack, you always appear so suddenly..." I said, complaining.

"Hahaha... Am I?" Jack said, smirking. "Oh yeah you said anything about fighting with weapons right? I can teach you."

"Really?" Rapunzel, Merida, and Hiccup surprised.

"Yes, you see this is my staff, it's my weapon to fight with the bad guy." Jack explained.

"Do you ever fight with a bad guy before?" I asked, curious.

"No, not yet... But I know I will someday." Jack said, looking serious. "Okay everyone now let's go to find a perfect weapons for you."

"Let's go search for weapon in weapons room." I said, holding Merida's hand.

All of us then went to the weapons room to search for weapon.

"Elsa, what is this?" Merida asked me as she hold an archery bow.

"It's a bow." I said, explaining to her. She just stare at the bow.

"It seems familiar..." Merida said, staring at the bow.

"Do you like it?" I asked. Merida then looking to me.

"It's okay you can have it for yourself." I smiled.

"Really? Thank you Elsa." Merida seems very happy, because she hug me after she thank me.

Then, I walk to Hiccup.

"Hey Hiccup, what did you get?" I asked.

"Elsa... I think I will use this..." Hiccup said as he shows me a sword he was holding.

"A sword?" I said.

"Yes, what do you think?" Hiccup asked.

"I think that's perfect." I smiled.

And then I walk toward Rapunzel.

"Rapunzel, what do you use?" I asked.

"Oh Elsa..." Rapunzel said, cheerful. "I think I will use this as my weapon..."

"A frying pan?" I said, surprised.

"Wait... That's not even a weapon." Jack complained.

"It's not?" Rapunzel said, looking down. "Then I can't use it?"

"You can..." I said.

"I can?" Rapunzel asked.

"She can?" Jack said, surprised.

"Yes she can, let her choose what's best for her... And beside Jack, there's no rules about 'frying pan is not a weapons', right?" I said, smiling to him.

All of us then gathered, and started to learn how to fight. Jack was teaching Merida and Hiccup, and I was teaching Rapunzel (Because Jack doesn't want to teach someone figthing with a frying pan). But actually, I don't have to teach her because the only thing I said to her is, "You can hit the bad guy with this frying pan." And beside, I don't think anyone should learn how to fight with frying pan, it's just come natural. And then I help Jack teaching Merida and Hiccup.

"Aww..." I said.

"Oh no Elsa I'm sorry..." Hiccup freak out, seeing how much blood who come from my hand.

"That's okay Hiccup, I'm fine." I smiled a little, hiding the pain.

"No, you're not okay... How can you still smile at time like this?" Jack quickly grabbed my hand. I blushed a little.

"Elsa what's wrong?" Rapunzel and Merida came closer to me to see my injured hand.

"It's okay everyone, I'm fine..." I said, still forcing to smile.

"Elsa..." Rapunzel said as she sitting beside me. "I want to show you something I've never showed to anyone before."

I just staring at her, I've never seen she was this serious before. Rapunzel then quickly put her hair in my injury hand and wrap it.

"Flower gleam and glow, let your power shine... Make the clock reverse, bring back what once was mine..." Rapunzel closed her eyes, and started to sing. Her golden hair started to glow. Everyone excluding Rapunzel was surprised to see her glowing hair.

"Her hair glow..." Jack said, surprised.

"Ssttt... You will ruin her concentration." Merida said.

"Heal what has been hurt, change the fate's design... Save what has been lost... Bring back what once was mine... What once was mine..." After Rapunzel finished the song, she opened her eyes, and unwrapped my hand. And I was surprised to see my hand is completely heal.

"Her hand... It's healing..." Jack said.

"Wow..." Merida said.

"Oh Elsa I'm so sorry..." Hiccup said as he hug me.

"It's okay Hiccup..." I said, hug him back.

"So you have a special hair?" I asked her.

"Yes." Rapunzel said, smiling.

"Since when?" Merida asked, curious.

"Since I was born." Rapunzel said.

"Do you ever cut your hair?" Hiccup asked.

"No, I never cut it before." Rapunzel said.

"Do you think she will lose her healing power if she cut her hair?" Jack whispering to Merida, but he said loud enough so everyone can still hear what he said.

"Maybe." Rapunzel said, not sure.

"Please don't tell anyone... I'm afraid if everyone know I hold this healing power, they will..." Rapunzel said, looking serious.

"We'll promise to keep this a secret..." All of us excluding Rapunzel said, as I patted her head.

"Thanks, you guys are the best." Rapunzel said, happily.

"We are family after all." I said, smiling. The four of us excluding Jack was hugging. Jack was just looking at us with his soft smile. I look at him and smile.

"Come here Jack." I said.

"No, I'm not a part of your family." Jack said.

"Of course you are. You've been here the whole time, you always visited us everyday, and you always playing games and having fun with all of us." I said. Jack was just looking at me. I smile, give a signal to Hiccup, Rapunzel, and Merida. They all reply with a smile too.

"Jack... Welcome to the family..." All of us excluding Jack said. Jack still looking at us.

"Come here Jack." I said again. But this time, Jack go straight to us and hug us.

"You're now officially the 4th member of The Big Four."

(The number of the member is based on their movies, Hiccup's How to Train Your Dragon comes first and that's why he is the first member, Rapunzel is the second, Merida is the third, and Jack is the fourth. Elsa is the last of all, but if I make her the member number 5, then it will be The Big Five, not Four, so I decide to make her the member number 0 (like Ayano ^^).

6. Chapter 6

Chapter 6

"Do you have to go?" I said to my parents before they're leaving.

"We'll be back in two weeks." My mother said, smiling to me.

My parents were having a very important bussiness for two weeks, so that means I have to take care of my brother, sisters, and castle while they're gone.

Oh yeah, I forgot to tell you. 10 years has passed since my family adopted Hiccup, Merida, and Rapunzel. They are so much mature and strong now. Together with Jack, they make a perfect team.

"Good bye mother, father..." Rapunzel, Hiccup, Merida waving to mother and father, and I just looking at my parents behind my brother and sisters.

"Your parents are leaving?" Jack suddenly appear beside me.

"Yes they are." I said, looking sad.

"Where?" He asked.

"Outside the town, they have a very important bussiness, and right now they're leaving with a ship." I said, looking to my mother and father who were already in the ship.

"Are you worried about them?" Jack asked.

"Of course I am, they're never leave me for two weeks like this. I wish they would take me with them." I said, worried.

"Well... You don't have to worry like that, you have me remember... And Hiccup, and Rapunzel, and Merida too." Jack said, smirking.

"Yeah, that's right, I still have all of you." I cheer up a little. "I just hope my parents will really be back in two weeks."

Later that night.

"Okay now time for bed." I said.

"Aww... Elsa... I don't want to go to sleep now..." Rapunzel said.

"Can we just play a little bit longer? We're already 16 now you know..." Merida said.

"No, you can't. Even though you already 16 but your schedule will never change. Okay go to bed right now." I said.

"Okay..." They said, they don't seems like they're happy about it.

The three of them then go to their own room and get into their bed.

"They're not kids anymore you know..." Jack said.

"I know but..." I said, looking down. "I have to be a great sister for them."

"You are a great sister." He said, smiling.

"Not great enough." I said, still looking down. Jack seems like he doesn't hear what I say before, because he just staring at me. "Oh yeah Jack, by the way, how do you become a spirit?"

"It's kind of long story, do you want to hear it?" Jack said.

I smiled and nodded.

Jack then tell me the first time he rise from the frozen lake ground, and then Man In the Moon tell him that his name is Jack Frost, and he is invisible until he met me and my brother and sisters.

"Wait... It's not a long story..." I said.

"It is for me." He said, laughing. Suddenly I remember when I asked my mother about Rapunzel, Merida, and Hiccup. I can't believe it's already 10 years since I first met them.

"But Man In the Moon never told me anything else." He said.

"Really?" I said. "I think you need to figure out yourself..."

Jack was just looking at me, confused.

"I mean Man In the Moon already told you that you're Jack Frost, he already gave you a hint, and now you have to figure out yourself what he mean by that, and why you are invisible."

"Yeah, maybe you're right." Jack said.

"It's getting late... I think I should get some rest." I said.

"Yeah, maybe you should." Jack said. "I'll see you again tomorrow?"

"It's up to you Jack." I smiled.

"Good night my little princess." Jack said as he patted my head.

"I'm 19... I'm not a kid anymore." I said.

He smiles, and then he leave.

The next day, I was playing with my brother and sisters (well of course we always play everyday) until suddenly I saw one of my butler came to me.

"Princess Elsa, there's someone who've been waiting for you outside the castle."

I quickly went to outside with my butler.

"Are you Princess Elsa of Arendelle, a daughter of the King and Queen Arendelle?"

"Yes, is there anything I can help you?"

"I'm here to inform that the King and Queen of Arendelle has passed away."

"What?"

(Thank you so much to Mewski, your review means a lot to me :) and sorry if it's too short :(and I want to say thank you for people who read my story ^^ see you next chapter)

7. Chapter 7

Chapter 7

It's been a week since my parents has passed away, and I've been locking myself in my room.

"It's feels like when Anna left me... It's so hurt..." I said, some tears come down to my cheek. "As I thought, happily ever after didn't exist..."

"No, I can't be like this anymore... I'm 19 now... I'm not a kid anymore..." I said. "I still have my brother and sisters... I will protect them... I'm all they have now..."

"For now on, I'll be a good sister, and a mother for them."

I went outside my room and walk toward my father's documentation room, a room where he keeps all the useful information about Arendelle. I search and search some document which I think useful, and suddenly I found something. A little box with 'SECRET' on it.

"What's this?" I said, curious.

I open the box and see a few document inside it. I was surprised when I read the document because it's about Hiccup, Rapunzel, and Merida. It says that their family was attacked by a bad guy named Pitch Black, and the three of them were the only survival, and also this Pitch guy is not a human. The reason he was attacking their family is still unknown, but he will come back one day to kill them again.

After I read those document, I was freeze like an ice.

"No, I don't want to be destroyed..." I said, still holding the document and freeze like an ice. I feel really scared at this time. There will come a world where happiness ends.

"Where's Elsa?" Hiccup asked.

"I don't know, still in her room maybe." Merida said.

"She still haven't come out in a week." Rapunzel said, looking sad.

"Yeah, I know." Hiccup said, looking down.

"I don't know what else we can do... She is the one who suffer the most... Than us." Merida said, feeling Elsa's pain.

"Maybe we can cheer he up?" Rapunzel suggested.

"Then let's go to her room." Hiccup said.

"You don't have to... I'm here..." I said as I walk behind them.

"Elsa." Rapunzel, Hiccup, and Merida shout in the same time.

"We were just planning to go to your room." Hiccup said.

"You are? Is something wrong?" I asked.

"Well... We figure maybe you were still sad about what happen to mom and dad, because you haven't came out from your room since then..." Rapunzel said.

"So maybe we can cheer you up a little bit, that's we were looking for you earlier..." Merida said.

"They're worried about me?" I said to myself, surprised. But suddenly I remember about the document I read earlier. Pitch will come and kill them, and a world where happiness ends will come soon. "Thanks but I'm better now."

"Then what should we do now?" Hiccup asked.

"You can do whatever you want, I'll be in my room, investigating something." I said as I started to walk.

"Do you need any help?" Rapunzel offered.

"No thanks, I'm fine being alone." I said.

"Wait... You won't lock yourself again right, Elsa?" Hiccup asked, worried.

"Of course not." I smiled, and then I walk toward my room.

"Okay now, what should I do in order to keep them safe?" I think, think, think, and think. After two hours spending my time in my room reading the document over and over, I decide to go to the library.

"Maybe I'll find something in the library."

I walk to the library, and searching for the book about Pitch or some books related to him. But I haven't found it yet.

"What are you doing, Elsa?"

I turned around, looking to the window, and I see Jack who were standing in front of the window.

"Jack?" I said, surprised. "I was... Reading a book."

"How are you feeling?" He asked.

"Why did he asked? Or perhaps he's worried about me?" I said to myself, blushing a little. "I feel fine."

"Are you sure? Hiccup said you've been locking yourself in your room for a week." He said.

"Yes, but I'm feeling a little better now." I said, smiling. This is the first time I smile in a week.

"A little better?" Jack asked.

"Oh did I said 'a little'? I mean I'm a lot better now." I said, trying to force myself to smile.

"Elsa... You can't lied to me... I can see through your eyes..." Jack said.

"Jack... I'm fine... Really..." I said, trying to convice him that I'm okay. "Oh yeah by the way Jack, is Man in the Moon lives in the moon?" I asked, trying to change the subject. I know it's a strange and silly question I've ever asked but I'm very curious right now, and maybe Man in the Moon can help me find Pitch.

"Of course he is, why do you ask?" He said, surprised.

"Do you ever meet him?" I asked again.

"No, I never met him. Why?" He said.

"If you never met him then how can you know that your name is Jack Frost? And how can you be so sure that Man in the Moon was the one who told you that your name is Jack Frost?" I asked again, sounds like I was investigating him.

"I don't know. When I was sitting on the top of someone's house, I hear someone saying 'My name is Man in the Moon, and your name is Jack Frost. You are a spirit of winter.'" Jack said.

"Really?" I said. "Maybe we should go to the moon to meet him." I giggled.

"Hahaha... Then you have to become an astronaut first..." Jack said, laughing.

"Maybe I should." I said, laughing too.

"You know Elsa, there's something I want to tell you." Jack said, blushing.

"What is it?" I said, cheerful.

"Actually I... Kind of like you..." He said, blushing like a tomato.

"Like me? You mean as a family?" I said.

"No, not a family. I like you as a person... Oh wait, I'm not saying it properly, am I?" He said, shyly. "Let me say that again. I love you Elsa."

"Wait... Is he just confess his love to me?" I said to myself, blushing.

"I know it's sounds weird and maybe it's not the right time to confess to you, and I also know how are you feeling right now after your parents incident, but..." Jack said, blushing.

"Jack... I... I feel the same too..." I said, blushing.

"You are?" He asked.

"Yes, I always think that you are the only one." I smiled. Well of course he is the only one because I never met any boy beside him, and Hiccup.

"But... I'm not a human..." He said.

"Jack, it doesn't matter you are a human or a spirit... I like you the way you are..." I said, smiling.

Jack then hug me, and I hug him back. This is the first time I heard someone confess his love to me, and also the first time I said to him that I feel the same way. For the first time in forever, I finally have a chance to love someone, and to be loved by someone.

(I'm sorry if it's a little rush, but in the summary I said 'a little Jelsa'. And by the way, I won't update until April because I have a national exam and I haven't prepare anything yet. And for the review;

8. Chapter 8

Chapter 8

"I love you, Elsa."

Last night Jack confessed his love to me, and I told him that I feel the same way. It feels like a dream, to be loved and to love someone.

"I can still feel my heartbeat." I said, holding my chest. "At least he manage to cheer me up." I smiled.

"But what will happen to my brother and sisters? Will Pitch really come back to kill them?" I think, really hard. Then I look to the sky from my window.

"How do I get to the moon to see Man in the Moon?" I confused. "Am I really have to be an astronaut first?"

I lay down on my bed and I fell asleep.

"Wait... Where am I?" I opened my eyes and realized that I was standing alone in some place.

"Is this a dream?" I asked myself. I look to the left and right, there's nothing here except me.

"Elsaâ€¦ Elsaâ€¦" Suddenly I heard someone calling my name. I look to the left and right again, hoping to find someone but there still no one else in here.

"Is someone in there?" I asked, raising my voice, hoping to get an answer.

"Dear Elsa." Suddenly someone appear in front of me. Someone I've never seen before. Someone not so tall, and a little chubby wearing a brown formal dress.

"Who are you?" I asked him.

"My name is Tsar Lunar XIIâ€¦" He said, with a soft voice and a smile. I still looking at him. "And also known as Man in the Moon."

I gasp, feeling a little bit surprised. "Man in the Moon? How can you be in my dream? Wait, is this really a dream?"

"That depends on you, do you think this is a dream or not." He smiled to me, and I still listening to him carefully.

"Dear Elsa, are you wish to know how to defeat Pitch?" He asked.

"Wellâ€¦ Yesâ€¦ Do you know how to defeat him?" I asked, curiously.

"Of course I know, I defeated him once." He said, looking down.

"You defeated him?" I asked.

"Yes, long ago in the moon, I lived with my family peacefully, until Pitch comes and ruins everything. He killed all of my family, and I am the only one left. Then, I decided to avenged what he did to my family, and we had a battle. I won the battle, and I send him to the dark world. After that incident I made a promise with myself that I will always protect everyone from him."

"Made a promise with his self?" I said to myself, suddenly I remember when I met the three of them, I also made a promise with myself to always protect them.

"But I failed, because when he attacked another family, I was unable to save them, but fortunately there's one survivor from each family that he attacked." He explained.

"One survivor from each familyâ€¦ Are theyâ€¦." I said, a little bit shock.

"Yes, they are your brother and sisters." He said.

"As I thought." I said to myself.

"Why would he do that?" I asked again.

"For powers. The three of them hold a very special power. Do you realize something different from them?" He asked.

"Yes, their eyes is bright red. And Rapunzel. She can heal others with her hair." I tell him.

"Yes, the three of them can defeat Pitch." He said.

"What? So the three of them can defeat Pitch?" I said, thinking. "And Pitch know this, that's why he tried to killed them with their family, am I right?"

"Yes, you're a very smart girl. But there's one thing he didn't know." He said.

"What is it?" I asked, hoping there's not something bad.

"All of them were born as a normal human, but when Pitch attacked them with their family, Pitch lose control of his own power." He explained. "And the result is some of his power went into someone who survive."

"No, that can't be trueâ€¦ Are you saying that Pitch who cause them to have red eyes?" I asked, not believe what I've just heard.

"Yes, and some of his powers live inside them. That means if you want to defeat Pitch, you have to defeat all of his powers too." He said, looking serious.

"No, I can't do it. I can't kill them. I'd rather kill myself." I said, afraid. "Are there any other way to save them?"

Man in the Moon didn't say anything. He just looking down. I think and think and think. Harder and harder. My feeling are all mixed up. There must be some other way to save them.

"The dark worldâ€¦" I said. Man in the Moon then looking to me.

"You said you send him to the dark world, right? Then I will go there and defeat him all by myself." I said.

"You can't defeat him all by yourself. Beside if a normal human like you go into the dark world, you can't go back to your own world again, you will be stuck in there forever." He said.

I paused a little, 'So I can't go back to Arendelle anymore?' I said to myself. I can't meet them and Jack anymore. But then I remember when Anna and my parents left me, I don't want that to happen again. I don't want someone to leave me again.

"I know a normal people like me can't do anything to stop him, but at least I want to do something for my brother and sisters." I know I'm being stubborn and selfish right now, but all I want to do is to save everyone. "Maybe I can convince him not to kill my brother and sisters, or maybe I can even convince him not to kill everyone else again. Please, tell me how to get into the dark world."

Man in the Moon still looking at me, he then close his eyes and smile. "Tonight, on 12 o'clock, everything and even your surrounding will become red, you have one minute before it going back to normal, you must kill yourself in order to get into the dark world."

"So I must kill myself on 12 o'clock tonight?" I asked. So it like a suicide on midnight? No wonder I can't go back to my world again.

"Yes, that's right." He said, and he still smiling to me. "Elsa, you have a very strong feeling about want to save them."

"I did?" I said, a little surprised.

"Yes you are, and that feeling reach me. That's why we can meet and communicate with each other in here. I hope your strong feeling will reach into Pitch too so you can be able to save everyone." He said, smiling to me.

"I hope it will. Thank you very much Man in the Moon." I said, bowing my head.

"You're welcome my dear, just remember, I will always be by your side." After he said that, everything become blur, and I wake up.

"I don't think that's a dream." I said, smiling to myself.

Later that night, on 7 p.m. , Jack visit me in my room.

"Hi there." He said with a smirk on his face.

"Hi Jack." I said.

"What are you doing?" He asked me.

"I want to get ready toâ€¦ Go to bed." I said, lying to him.

"Oh did I interrupted you? I'm sorry." He said, getting ready to go out.

"No no no, that's fine. I want you to stay with me for just a little bit." I said.

"Okay, I will." He smile. I smile back.

"Jack, I love you." I said, smiling.

"Why are you suddenly saying that right now?" He said, his face is red like a tomato.

"No reason." I said, happily. "Jack, will you always be with me?"

"Of course I am, even though you will marry someone else in the future, or having kids with him, and even if you forget about me someday, I will always stay by your side." Jack answered, smiling.

"But what if, I'm not die in old age?" I asked.

"Then I will stay by your side until you die, I will never leave you, I promise." Jack said.

"He's so sweet..." I said to myself as I giggle. "Jack, would you do me a favor?"

"Anything for you." He said.

"Would you take care of my brother and sisters?" I said, smiling.

"I will always take care all of you who are precious to me." Jack said.

"Thank you Jack, I'm happy to hear that." I said.

"You're welcome, my princess." Jack said.

"I love you Jack, so much than you could ever imagine." I said, smiling.

"You already said that earlier." Jack said, with a red face. But then he notice I'm still smiling to him.

"I love you too Elsa." Jack said, smiling too.

That is the last time I spoke to him, asking him to take care of my brother and sisters. I know I'm being selfish right now, and I know how much everyone will be upset, but I have to do this alone, no matter what.

"I'm sorry Hiccup, Rapunzel, Merida, Jack..." I said, smiling for the last time. "I've made a promise with myself that I will always protect all of you..."

I wonder after I'm gone what will they do? Will they still getting along and smiling like we used to ? I'm glad that I met the four of them, I'd felt so much happiness, surrounded by the ones I loved, having fun all the times. If I can wish for anything right now, I'll wish for everyone's happiness.

After that I jump from the window of my room and entering the gate of darkness.

"I wonder... If I have become a good big sister for them?"

9. Chapter 9

Chapter 9

"Jack, did Elsa said anything to you?" Hiccup asked.

"Well no, she only asked me to..." Jack said, suddenly he stopped.

"To what?" Rapunzel and Merida asked, curiously and suspiciously.

"To take care of you guys..." Jack said, realizing what Elsa's mean by take care of her brother and sisters.

Everyone just stay silent. They don't know what else to say. It's been 2 weeks since Elsa was missing, and we've been searching everywhere for her. The entire kingdom and even the entire village. But she was no where to be found.

"It's a hint." Hiccup finally broke the silent.

"What hint?" Merida asked, not understand.

"Elsa was already planned this, she knew that day she was going to missing..." Hiccup explained.

"What do you mean, Hiccup?" Rapunzel asked, not understand what Hiccup's mean.

"I mean, she left on purpose." Hiccup said, and everyone gasped. "But that just my theory though, I still don't have anything to prove it."

"I'm so sorry... I should have asked what she meant by that." Jack said, feeling guilty.

"That's okay Jack, you don't know that she was going to disappear right." Hiccup said, trying to cheer Jack up.

"Yeah Jack, it's not your fault." Merida said. Rapunzel was just smiled to Jack. Jack look at Hiccup, and then Merida, and then Rapunzel. They're all smiling, but Jack knew behind their smiles, they were actually crying.

"We'll find her, trust me." Hiccup said to Jack, this time Hiccup's face has turn into a serious face. Jack then smiled a little bit, even if he forced it.

"Yeah, we'll definitely find her."

Then everyone went to do their own things. Rapunzel went to brush her hair in her room, Merida went to practice with her bow, and Jack left to find Elsa again I guess. And I (Hiccup) went to Elsa's room to find clues. I search on her desk but there's nothing on it, and when I was about to gave up, I suddenly saw an old little box with a word 'SECRET' on it. Curiously, I opened the box and saw a few document inside it. I read all the document and I was surprised because it's about me, Rapunzel, and Merida's past.

"So our family was attacked by a bad guy named Pitch Black who is not a human?" I gasp. But suddenly I feel really tired and collapse on Elsa's bed.

"Hiccup can you hear me?" I hear someone calling my name, but I don't know who, and I don't think I've ever heard his/her voice before.

"Who are you?" I opened my eyes and saw a little chubby man wearing a brown formal dress.

"My name is Tsar Lunar XII, also known as Man in the Moon." He said, with a bright smile.

"Is this a dream?" I said, observing my surrounding. Man in Moon then smile. "You sound just like your sister."

Wait, did he said sister? My sister?

"My sister? You mean Elsa? Do you know her?" I asked him, surprised.

"Yes I know your sister, Elsa. I've met her, once." He said.

"Where?" I asked.

"The day before your sister went missing."

I gasp and shocked. For the first time in my life, I can feel my heart beats really fast, and my mind is empty, and also my body can't move.

"What? Do you know where she is?" I asked again, hoping he knows where she is.

"Of course. She went to the dark world to meet Pitch." He explained.

"Pitch Black? The guy who attacked my, Rapunzel's, and Merida's family?" I asked.

"Yes, so you already know." He said.

"Ehm, I read in a document a few minutes ago." I explained. "But more importantly, why she went there? And you said a dark world? Is that world really exist?"

Man in Moon then stare at me, and walk closer to me.

"Listen Hiccup," He said with a soft voice but with a serious tone. "Pitch Black will come to kill you and Rapunzel and Merida, but Elsa said she won't let that happen, so she went to the dark world to find Pitch."

"What? But why did Pitch wanted to kill us?" I asked.

"Because the three of you hold a special powers, and Pitch wanted that powers." Man in Moon explained. "And Hiccup, I know how much you want to meet your sister again, but she won't come back. Because every normal human who entered the dark world cannot return to his/her real world again."

"Then I will go to the dark world." I said, stubbornly. "I will go there and meet her, and then I will defeat Pitch. After I defeat Pitch, I will find a solution so she can go back to this world again."

Man in Moon just looking at me, and then he smiled. "Okay then go there, you can entered the dark world by killing yourself on midnight. When your surrounding become red, you have to kill yourself. You only have one minute before everything went back to normal."

"Tonightâ€¦ On 12 o'clockâ€¦ I must kill myselfâ€¦ Got it! Thank you very much Mr. Man in Moon." I said, smiling.

"You're welcome my dear." Man in Moon smiled back. "Oh yeah by the way, I think you can make her go back to her world again."

"Really? How?" I said, fired up.

"You said you want to find a solution first right?" Man in Moon smiled.

"Well, that's true. Butâ€¦"

"Don't worry dear, I'm sure you will find it." Man in Moon then smiled at me, and he walk away. After that everything become blur and I wake up.

"That dream is really somethingâ€¦" I said as I opened my eyes, tiredly.

"Pitch Blackâ€¦ The dark worldâ€¦ Redâ€¦" I think and think and think. "Waitâ€¦ My eyes is red, is this a sign of my power?" I said to myself. "Oh yeah I forgot to asked what kind of power I have."

After a few minutes of thinking, I finally wake from Elsa's bed. "I have to tell them quicklyâ€¦" Then I ran to find Rapunzel, Merida, and Jack. And finally, the three of them gathered in the living room.

"What's up Hiccup?" Merida asked.

"Is there something wrong Hiccup?" Rapunzel asked.

"Did you found Elsa?" Jack asked.

"No, I didn't." I said, looking down. And then I lift my head and face them with a serious face.

"But I know where she is."
